

Training

Technology is changing, evolving and improving at a rapid rate – and we all need to try and keep up. If you are “in the industry” it’s easy to keep abreast of the latest developments. But we could all do with a little help every now and again.

Dolphin Computer Upgrades Ltd have always offered training alongside their other services. As technology has evolved, so have our training packages. We can offer basic computer training on a one-to-one basis right through to corporate training for entire organisations. If you need to know a little more, we will be able to help you to learn.

Dolphin Training Includes...

Home Computer Tuition

Getting To Know Your New System

Email/Excell/Word Training

Downloading Images & Programs

Security Training

Social Media Training

Software Training

All of our training is bespoke to your individual needs – you only learn what you want to learn. If you don’t see the training type you are after listed above, please get in touch as we are sure that we will be able to help you to get where you need to be.
